

2nd India International Conference

MONEY LAUNDERING AND COLLECTIVE RESPONSE

Emerging Trends, Prevention, Detection and Investigation

► VIRTUAL | THURSDAY, 29 SEPTEMBER 2022

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

While India is commemorating 20 years of enactment of the PMLA, the impact of newer trends in money laundering and white-collar crimes on economic stability cannot be undermined. Criminals outwit law enforcement by deploying a team of experts with specific domain knowledge to disguise illicit money and show it as legitimate income. The placement and layering of ill-gotten money in a digital environment have posed a severe threat to the economy and this calls upon stakeholders to indulge in a discourse on the subject.

A review to the efficacy of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002 and amendments made thereto; vis-à-vis evolving operandi while integration of criminals in current times would pave the way to make strategies, amend the laws further and co-develop an ecosystem to counter the future crimes in India. Also, a revisit to allied or sectoral regulatory frameworks governing multiple compliances is expected to bring forth the challenges faced by stakeholders. A holistic approach and collective response provide an opportunity to address the challenges for future prevention, detection, and investigation of cases.

In view of above and to deliberate on newer collective approaches of global stakeholders including the financial institutions, government, regulators, legal professionals, enforcement agencies, parties in trade and business, reg-tech and legal-tech experts, ASSOCHAM's National Council for Legal Affairs and Regulatory Reforms along with National Council for Internal Audit and Risk Management is organising the 2nd India and International Conference on "Money Laundering and Collective Response" on 29th September 2022 (from 3:00 PM to 6:00 PM).
